STRATEGIC THINKING

1. Futuristic®

What Is Futuristic?

People with strong Futuristic talents love to peer over the horizon. They are fascinated by the future. They anticipate and imagine in detail what tomorrow could or should be. They usually see the future positively. While the details of the picture will depend on their other strengths and interests – a better product, a better team, a better life or a better world – it will always inspire them. This vision energises themselves and others. They can paint a picture of the future for their team members.

It's very likely that you occasionally work seriously at something when you have defined the specific objective you want to reach in the near term or the long term. Remember, your other talents might influence how far into the future you can push certain goals and still give them your undivided attention.

Chances are good that you think about what you can fix or do better. Your mind is usually occupied by what you can accomplish in the coming months, years, or decades. This explains why you find today's events ordinary and less fascinating than the future.

Driven by your talents, you are energized by your plans for the coming months, years, or decades. Bringing your ideas to life is an exciting proposition for you. You sense you have the power to transform whatever you think is possible into tangible outcomes.

By nature, you may set aside quite a bit of time to contemplate what the world could be like years or decades from today. Perhaps ideas come to you when you are in the company of particular visionary thinkers. Sometimes these individuals stimulate your inventiveness.

Instinctively, you forge ahead to build the life you envision. You reach your goals by finding as many opportunities as possible to use your unique abilities and natural gifts.

2. Ideation®

What Is Ideation?

People with strong Ideation talents are creative and appreciate originality. They relish free-thinking experiences such as brainstorming and discussion groups. They have a natural capacity to consider issues from multiple perspectives. They revel in taking the world we all know and turning it around so people can view it from a strangely enlightening angle. They think outside the box. They are fascinated by new ideas and concepts, which come to them easily. They love ideas because they can be profound, they can be novel, they can be clarifying, they can be contrary and they can be bizarre. For all of these reasons, they derive a jolt of energy whenever a new idea occurs to them.

Why Your Ideation Is Unique

These Strengths Insights are personalised based on your CliftonStrengths results.

FuturisticIdeation*Strategic*Communication*Positivity

Driven by your talents, you examine the past. You discover why things happened. This permits you to foresee the future. You study humankind's story to identify subtle nuances, recurring sequences of events, and predictable human behavior. Generating clever, resourceful, inventive, and original alternatives, you can offer solutions to age-old problems.

Chances are good that you occasionally know without resorting to reason what some people think about you as a person or as a professional. The impressions they have of you might contribute to your success or failure. To some degree, the views of particular individuals influence your words or deeds.

Instinctively, you spontaneously dissect plans, proposals, processes, or contracts. You often take apart mechanisms. What do you do with all these pieces, parts, or steps? You carefully examine them. Then you determine the function of each one. Frequently you are the most knowledgeable person in the group. This helps you generate more original ideas than your coworkers, teammates, or classmates can.

By nature, you long to know more so you remain on the cutting edge of your field or areas of interest. Your inventive mind usually generates more possibilities than you can handle or fund. Nonetheless, you are committed to acquiring knowledge and/or skills. You study everything involved in a situation and conceive entirely new ways of seeing or doing things. What you already know prompts you to ask questions and delve even deeper into a subject or problem.

It's very likely that you frequently identify parts of your life you want to change for the better. You also seek ways to upgrade things. You feel renewed mentally, physically, and emotionally each time you turn around a situation with your innovative thinking.

This outlook allows them to see patterns where others see complexity. Mindful of these patterns, they envision alternative scenarios, always asking, "What if this happened?" This recurring question helps them see, plan and prepare for future situations. They see a way when others assume there is no way. Armed with this strategy, they move forward.

It's very likely that you enjoy brainstorming — that is, a group problem-solving technique that involves the spontaneous contribution of ideas from all participants. Because you have acquired special skills and knowledge, you can suggest a number of alternative solutions. Your expertise often serves as a springboard for your own and others' imaginations. This is the case when you are encouraged to think about the future.

Driven by your talents, you customarily pinpoint the core problems and identify the best solutions. You artfully and skillfully eliminate distractions. This helps people gain a clear understanding of what is happening and why it is happening. You frequently identify ways to transform an obstacle into an opportunity.

Because of your strengths, you work diligently to invent alternative courses of action. You notice new as well as unusual configurations in facts, evidence, or data. Others, however, can see only separate, unrelated bits of information. You are fascinated by problems that puzzle, confound, or frustrate most people.
